NOTE: The frontside of the LCD is shown here! The display has to be flipped for soldering. X=0 is the leftmost position.

2.7V...7V is within the allowed range. Due to the large variety of displays we want to be on the secure side, therefore 3.3V should be preferred!